A Chartered Mediator, Certified Ombudsman and Sacred Coach, Sue has a unique approach to workplace conflicts which balances the legal, business and psychological health aspects for individual and team disputes. Her gift of creating safe psychological spaces for people to honestly dialogue - combined with her ability to bring clarity, integrity and compassion - have ensured sustainable solutions to very complex and challenging cases. In 2004, the Canadian and International Franchise Community sought her expertise in running their Franchise Ombudsman programs. These programs have recently celebrated their 10th anniversary, a real accomplishment in an industry with continual change. In total, Sue has operated and developed over four different Ombudsman programs with clients in Canada, the United States & internationally. (More on these programs at www.cfa.ca and www.ifaresolve.com)

In 2012 (and as a result of customer demand), her transformative coaching model expanded to include deeper mind, body and spirit dimensions – and the creation of her new business, Sacred Evolving Lives. Here, Sue helps people explore and develop their inner sacred consciousness, and integrate this new consciousness into their daily personal and professional lives.
